

What sources of error are involved in this experiment?

